INDITECH HEALTH

As a pediatric pharma brand, do you face any of these challenges?

Brand investments often struggle to convert into real practice change because:

- Origination is weak The right patients never get identified early enough (risk not screened in the clinic, parents don't recognise red flags, "silent" conditions in teens).
- Therapy / drug / brand choice is commoditised Once a doctor decides the class, it becomes "any ORS", "any calcium", "any ondansetron", "any vaccine" – habit + chemist + noise decide the brand.
- Adherence is fragile Parents leave with a plan, but education is verbal, forgotten and rarely reinforced. Supplements, preventive therapies and long courses quietly drop off.

While most agencies sell activity, Inditech delivers outcomes

More of the right patients

reaching the doctor

More guideline-aligned prescriptions

Better brand share

in those prescriptions

Better adherence

Not just decks, campaigns, webinars and "digital", but linked to measurable outcomes.

What Inditech does differently

We design outcome-focused programs that sit inside real pediatric practice – not around it.

For each brand, we work backwards from your challenges:

And we give you outcome focused solutions by combining:

- Clinic-white-labelled, academy endorsed, doctor-intermediated services for patients, and
- Academy-endorsed, brand-relevant education for doctors, stitched together with simple tech and measurable usage.

Our unique position in the pediatric ecosystem

Inditech is the techno-commercial operator of the digital platforms of the Indian Academy of Pediatrics (IAP) and the South Asia Paediatrics Association (SAPA).

This gives access to high-trust content and formats.

What we can deliver for your brand

Clinic-white-labelled services for patients

Simple services that clinics share with their own patients

Academy-endorsed, brand-relevant education for doctors

Education that aligns with the clinic tools

A. Clinic-white-labelled services for patients

Simple services that clinics share with their own patients:

Screening & risk checks

Monitoring & trackers

Patient education, reminders & follow-ups

Each service follows the same pattern:

Clinic poster → QR / WhatsApp link

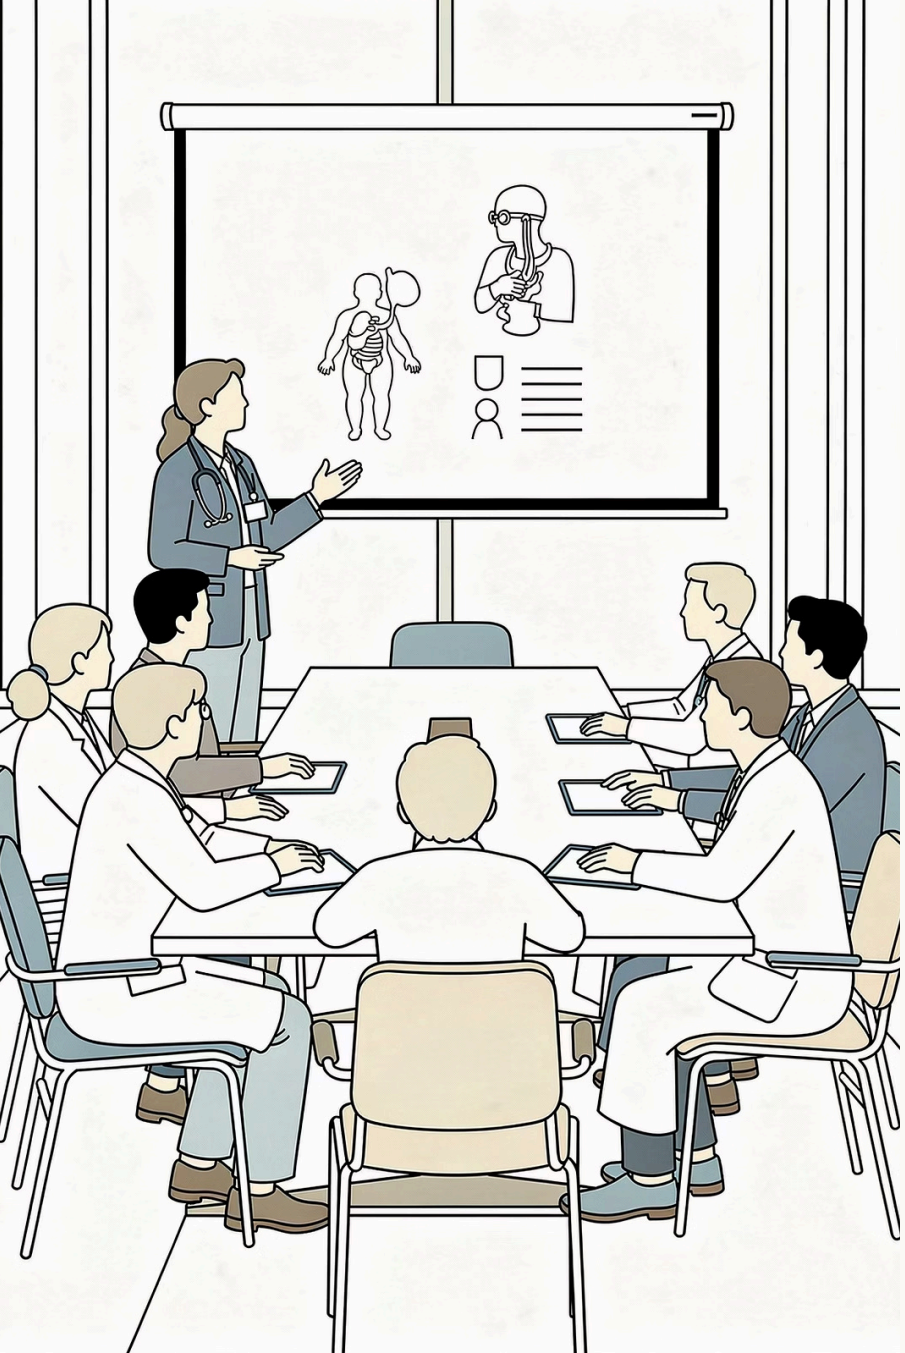
short form

clinic-branded output + local-language video

"discuss this with your doctor"

Your brand never appears on these patient tools – that's why clinics and academies are happy to adopt them.

But your brand is the one that made the service possible, which is where the next pillar comes in.



B. Academy-endorsed, brand-relevant education for doctors

For the same conditions and moments, we deploy academy-branded education that aligns with the clinic tools:

- In-Clinic shared Mini-CMEs and Case Series
- KOL-led interactive education

The doctor experiences: Academy content → clear pathway → your brand at the logical decision node.

Why this matters for you

With Inditech, your brand gets:

More of the right consultations

Clinic tools ensure that children at risk are more likely to show up, with a structured risk summary in hand.

Cleaner, guideline-aligned pathways where your molecule fits

You're no longer fighting random habits; you're sitting inside an academy-endorsed algorithm.

Stronger brand choice at the critical moment

When the doctor has to pick a specific product in that class, your brand is already mentally linked to:

- the clinic service they like, and
- the academy content they trust.

More benefits for your brand

Better adherence and long-term usage where appropriate

Parents understand what to do between visits, and why; they are less likely to abandon therapy, supplements, or preventive measures halfway.

Measurable engagement instead of just "we did some activity"

- Clinics onboarded and active
- Forms filled, videos viewed, follow-ups triggered
- CME PDFs shared, opened, and read to the end
- Webinar participation, CME attendance

In short

We're not a "CME agency" or a "digital agency".

We're a new kind of partner that uses academy-endorsed education + clinic-branded patient services to move your brand on origination, therapy choice, drug choice, brand choice and adherence – and we can show you how.
